

KENNEDY SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

No. 07, 17 November 2017

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Parents,

We are enjoying some beautiful autumn weather which we hope lasts for the next few weeks during our Year 4, Year 5 and Year 6 camps. Our camping program is an integral part of our curriculum and the children learn the important skills of independence, co-operation and team work and it also enables students to learn together in a different environment from being at school. The camps take a huge amount of organisation and involve over 30 staff members.

ARTS IN THE PARK

Last Saturday our large choir had the opportunity to sing at the Youth Arts "Arts in the Park" extravaganza at Victoria Park. It's always a sense of pride when tourists are overheard asking "Wow, who is that school?". Please make a note of the dates in today's newsletter of when and where our choir will be singing over the Christmas season.

SCHOOL UNIFORM REMINDER - WE ARE NOT IN ICELAND!

As the days begin to get cooler can I remind parents that children should only be wearing the Kennedy School uniform. The cardigans are perfect to take away any chill and the fleeces work well on the few cold days we have. Today I helped a Year 1 take off four layers of clothes before he melted in the playground!

Lots of sports happening with our netball and football teams involved in many tournaments and all of them enjoying great success. A credit to all our staff who coach these teams after school and on weekends.

Have a lovely weekend.

THE HONG KONG YOUNG WRITERS AWARDS 2018 NEW JOURNEYS TO THE WEST - DEADLINE: JANUARY 8TH, 2018

Once again Kennedy School will be participating in the Hong Kong Young Writers Awards Competition and aiming to continue its proud tradition of success in this, the 9th edition of the event. The competition is open to all Kennedy students who wish to take part.

The theme for this year is 'New Journeys to the West'. Children may choose to write a poem, a story or a non-fiction piece based on this theme. Full details can be found on the HKYWA website: www.hkywa.com which gives writers' workshop advice on the theme itself, as well as detailed information about how written submissions should be prepared. Children can also come and have a chat with me if they wish to know more about the competition.

All writing entered for the competition needs to be prepared in electronic form and emailed to Mr Moore (jmoore@kennedy.edu.hk) by no later than January 8th, 2018. NB the competition website gives a later submission date than this - this is for schools' reference only. Children should ensure that their full name and class are indicated in the filename.

Children shortlisted for one of the main prizes will be invited to the awards ceremony later in the year.

Good luck!

ICT TEAM - YOUTUBE WARNING

Many children enjoy watching cartoons on YouTube at home, but parents need to be aware of a growing trend of unauthorised videos featuring popular cartoon characters. Some examples are Paw Patrol, Frozen, Peppa Pig, and many more are appearing crudely animated videos that often feature upsetting and disturbing storylines, including characters being beaten, maimed or killed.

MESSAGE FROM THE I.N. DEPARTMENT

FOCUS and the Dyslexia Association (Hong Kong) are pleased to bring two internationally recognized experts together to share, educate and raise awareness of learning differences.

Thomas E. Brown

earned his Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology at Yale University and served on the clinical faculty of the Dept. of Psychiatry at Yale School of Medicine for 20 years while operating a clinic for children and adults with ADHD and related problems. Dr. Brown has published over 30 peer-reviewed scientific articles, was elected a fellow of the American Psychological Association and has served on the Professional Advisory Board for CHADD and the National Attention Deficit Disorder Association.

Dr. Lindsay Peer CBE

is widely recognized as an expert in the range of specific learning difficulties, SEN and mainstream education. She was appointed CBE for services to Education & Dyslexia and was awarded the Outstanding Lifetime Academic Achievement Award by the British Dyslexia Association. Dr. Peer has many years' experience as an educational psychologist, teacher and teacher trainer and brings both theoretical and practical understanding to the support children with learning differences at home and at school.

PARENT AND EDUCATOR SEMINAR

Understanding and Supporting Minds that learn Differently

DATE: November 18th

VENUE: Kowloon Junior School

The seminar will be valuable to parents, educators and other professionals wanting to better understand how to support children with ADHD and Specific Learning Difficulties (SpLD) such as dyslexia.

Morning only: 8:45 - noon (2 presentations) $700

Whole day: 8:45 - 3:45

(3 presentations and light lunch) $1,400

REGISTER HERE

PARENT TRACK

MORNING SESSION 1: 8:45 - 10:15

Winning with Dyslexia: Understanding your child and the impact of dyslexia upon their emotions, living and learning

Dr. Peer will look at dyslexia from a home/school perspective so that adults striving to provide support can better understand the link to academic struggles, lowered self-esteem, anxiety and lack of motivation. She will also explore the strengths which can emerge in the right supportive environment.

MORNING SESSION 2: 10:30 - 12:00

Unraveling the Mysteries of the Brain's Self-Management System

Drawing upon his research and private practice experiences Dr. Brown will present the latest understanding of how differences in executive functioning impact the ability to focus and manage emotions for those with AD/HD and Specific Learning Difficulties (SpLD). Dr. Brown will also detail paths those with ADHD can take to move on toward a more rewarding and productive academic and social life.

EDUCATOR TRACK

MORNING SESSION 1: 8:45 - 10:15

New Understandings of ADHD: implications for educators

Dr. Brown will challenge old assumptions about ADHD and present the latest science-based understanding of ADHD as developmentally-impaired executive function. He will explore how ADHD affects the brain's "googling" for motivations, the emotional dynamics in those coping with ADHD and provide practical examples from daily life to help teachers consider how they can help children and adolescents deal more effectively with executive function challenges in their education and social interactions.

MORNING SESSION 2: 10:30 - 12:00

Overcoming Underachievement: The link between processing, academic and emotional difficulties in dyslexia

Dr. Peer will explain the current understanding of dyslexia and its challenges in the mainstream classroom in relation to daily functioning, academic underachievement and accompanying emotional challenges. She will also highlight common dyslexic strengths which are often overlooked and which can help create effective and lasting academic, emotional and social improvement.

AFTERNOON SESSION: PARENTS AND EDUCATORS

1:15 - 3:45

Dyslexia: Making it work!

Tried and tested effective practice accessible to school and to home

Too many youth with learning differences struggle at home and at school with some inadvertently become excluded within an inclusive environment. In this last session for teachers and parents, Lindsay will turn the theory into practice, focusing upon methods to foster more effective teaching, learning and the emotional growth needed for students who learn differently to reach their full potential.

An important announcement about

We know that many children enjoy watching cartoons on YouTube at home, but parents need to be aware of a growing trend of unauthorised videos featuring popular cartoon characters.

Characters from shows such as Paw Patrol, Frozen, Peppa Pig and many more are appearing in crudely animated videos that often feature upsetting and disturbing storylines, including characters being beaten, maimed or killed.

These videos are heavily monetised through frequent adverts, and in some cases have received millions of views, appearing frequently in the 'suggested videos' section.
This also applies to the "YouTube Kids" app.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Select your child's content with them, and avoid leaving them to watch alone, especially if Auto-play is enabled.

Choose age appropriate, official media using services such as iTunes, Netflix or DisneyJunior.

Use YouTube tools to report content and disable auto play.

NUTRITION

For growing children the impact of good nutrition is far more significant than for adults since their brains are still developing and changing. Nutrients like healthy fats, protein, complex carbohydrates, micronutrients (vitamins, minerals and phytonutrients) and water are essential in supporting all the important functions of the brain.

What's the best fat for brain health and learning? Omega-3 oils from foods like fish, nuts, seeds and dark leafy greens are the best fats for the learning brain. What role does protein play in learning? Protein provides amino acids which are the building blocks of neurotransmitters, the chemical messengers of the brain. In this way, proteins are crucial to brain function. Eating sufficient protein not only supports brain function, it also helps avoid issues such as poor concentration and memory.

Legumes, nuts, seeds, quinoa, oats, cheese, fish, chicken and other quality sourced meats all provide protein. Carbohydrates – Sugar, fibre and starch. While the brain does require glucose (sugar) to function, too much sugar or refined carbohydrates at one time can actually deprive your brain of glucose. Eating sugar provides a boost in energy but excessive sugar consumption can cause bursts of energy followed by fidgeting, headaches, trouble concentrating, or drowsiness.

These days, a lot of processed sugar makes its way into our diets because it is added to so many foods. Extra sugar in our diets from processed foods like deli meat, bread and most pre-made sauces and snacks, results in obesity, diabetes and increases the risk of heart disease. This is a serious threat to overall health.

Along with fruits and vegetables, whole grains such as whole wheat bread, rye, barley and quinoa are complex carbohydrates. These are better choices than highly refined white bread, French fries, cookies and processed foods in packages. Complex carbohydrates also contain fibre which helps the body slowly absorb the sugar in the food.

We have extended the deadline to order Ellen Leou's books. The children have really enjoyed reading them in the library so this is a chance for them to order their own copies if they wish. Ellen's books are beautifully finished and presented with a fabric outer cover and colourful, detailed illustrations of Hong Kong scenes. They make wonderful keepsakes or gifts for friends and family who want to know more about this city we live in. Please fill out the order form if you wish to order her books and hand it in to the office or your class teacher no later than 1st December. Children who have already placed an order will receive their books soon.
